

LAW TO BE INVOKED
AGAINST LYNCHERS

PROSECUTIONS FOLLOW THE INDIANA AFFAIR.

Several of the Men Strung Up Were of Good Families and Were Not of the Professional Criminal Class—They Had All Been Suspected of Theft.

Versailles, Ind., (via Osgood, Ind.), Sept. 16.—Between midnight and 1 o'clock Wednesday morning horsemen coming by the score from all quarters dismounted on a hillside near Versailles. There was no noise save that of the clatter of horses' hoofs. Little time was lost, and by pre-arranged plans about 300 of these silent men marched to the county jail. The keeper was called out and compelled to surrender the keys, and five prisoners were taken from their cells and hanged to the limbs of a tree. The victims of the mob's fury were:

HENRY SHULER.
LYLE LEVI.
WILLIAM JENKINS.
BERT ANDREWS.
CLIFFORD GORDON.

No parallel of the event can be found, perhaps, within the history of the state. The prisoners were confined in the county jail on the charge of burglary. They all resided in the town of Osgood, and were supposed to belong to an organized band of thieves and highwaymen which had been robbing and terrorizing the citizens of Ripley county for a number of years. They were awaiting trial for having attempted to break into the general store of Wooley Bros. at Correct last Saturday night. Gordon and Andrews were captured at the time after a running fight, and after each had been severely wounded. The other prisoners were detained on the charge of having assisted and aided in the attempted burglary, and whose guilt seemed evident. Public feeling had been aroused against the prisoners because they had so often escaped the penalties of the law.

Sheriff Henry Bushing and wife were away from home. He had been badly wounded while trying to capture the men Saturday night, and the jail was in charge of his brother-in-law, W. T. Kennen, turnkey, and William Black. At 12:45 o'clock they were aroused by the ringing of the door bell. Kennen and Black went down and opened the door. Three masked men with a revolver in each hand confronted them. The leader said: "Hold up your hands! We demand the keys of the jail." Kennen looked into the muzzles of six revolvers, and after some resistance was taken to the kitchen and found the keys. Kennen and Black were locked in a cell and three men with revolvers made their way through the grating and others went to find the prisoners, who had all retired.

In the lower cellrooms were confined Levi, Shuler and Jenkins, and there the visitors proceeded first. Levi was first awakened, and, refusing to throw up his hands at the command of the leader, two pistol shots were heard, and he fell to the floor pierced to the heart. Shuler, lying on his cot, refused to get up, but begged for his life. A stroke upon the head from a heavy stick silenced him, and he rolled to the floor. Jenkins' fate was similar, and the three bodies were carried to the main corridor, and the lynchers made their way upstairs, where Gordon and Andrews were found. They, being wounded, submitted without much effort. Their hands were tied behind them, ropes were placed around their necks and they were dragged down the stairway where their companions lay.

Ropes being placed around the necks of all the order was given, "Pull on the ropes, boys, and hurry up."

Two squares north of the jail on the bluff near the famous "Gordon's Leap" was found an old elm tree, and to its toughened limbs were hanged the maimed and bruised bodies of the five prisoners, naked and ghastly. The scene was appalling, and the bodies were soon cut down and covered under the shade of the tree. The sheriff, who is still suffering from the wound received in the fight at the store on Saturday night, has received a message from the governor to use all means in his power to apprehend the men composing the mob. However, it seems the sheriff is powerless, as no means of identification of a single man has been obtained.

Governor Mount has wired Sheriff Bushing to do his utmost to bring the lynchers to justice, but has not met with the expected co-operation of the local authorities. Men of standing in the community are openly applauding the work of the mob, declaring there was seemingly no power in the state that would suppress long-existing lawlessness in Ripley county, and that the lynching of the suspects was the only remedy that remained for the people.

Lyle Levi was born and raised in this county and was 58 years of age. He served three years in the 83d regiment, Indiana volunteers, company F, and was severely wounded in the face. He was a member of the noted Levi family and served two terms in the penitentiary for counterfeiting. For many years he had been a quiet, peace-loving citizen and president of the Murphy Temperance league for the last two years.

William Jenkins was about 30 years of age and married a daughter of Isaac

Levi. He was never convicted of crime, but harbored those who were thought to be thieves.

Bert Andrews was about 30 years of age, was married, but did not live with his family. He came from a good family, but his associations were not of the best class. While in jail he freely talked of the shooting at the Correct store and made no pretensions of innocence.

Clifford Gordon was about 20, single, desperate and daring. He was looked upon by the best citizens as a common thief. He had been in jail for stealing.

Henry Shuler, Jr., was a son of Henry Shuler, a respected citizen of Osgood. He was about 24 years of age. He had been accused of a number of petty crimes and was in jail for burglary.

Gov. Mount Takes Action.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 16.—Governor Mount Wednesday sent Merrill Moores, deputy attorney-general, to the scene of the lynching, with instructions to make a full investigation and spare no expense in bringing the lynchers to justice. The governor condemned the lynching in the strongest terms. "I propose to see that the men who participated in the outrage are uncovered and punished," said he. "Every effort within the power of this state will be put forth, and there will be no let up until the men who committed the murder have been apprehended and punished."

The governor will not call out the militia unless further lynchings should be threatened.

BONES FROM A WOMAN.

Experts Identify All the Exhibits in the Luetgert Case.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—A large bone taken from the engine room of the Luetgert factory was identified by Professor Dorsey yesterday as a portion of a human femur. The witness stated that in his opinion it was from a woman. Professor Dorsey also identified a bone taken from the furnace ashes as a portion of the left temporal bone of a human being. Taking all the bone exhibits of the state and considering them together, the experts testify that they are all from one human body, and probably the body of a woman.

Luetgert declared the alleged femur was that of a hog, and examined it without emotion. Experts for the defense say that the two bones identified resemble human bones, but that it is not possible to say that they are human.

The state expects to close its case to-day.

Attorney Vincent declares that he will prove beyond a doubt that Mrs. Luetgert was alive after the date of the alleged crime, and that this will be shown outside the testimony of A. W. C. Grotty. Mrs. Feldt will be a witness on the alleged motive for the alleged crime.

Lowers All Records.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 16.—The second day of the Springfield Bicycle club's tournament closed Wednesday night with the Michael-Lesna twenty mile race. Michael won in fine shape by 150 yards in the record-breaking time of 38.11. The former world's record was 2 3-5 seconds slower. The two were paced by quads. Nelson Carlson tried to lower the unpaced mile record, but was unsuccessful, making the mile in 2:08 4-5. Bald tried to lower the half-mile paced record of 47 seconds. His time was 53 3-5 seconds.

Baney Before the Grand Jury.

Danville, Ind., Sept. 16.—Noah Baney and Guy Van Tassel appeared before the grand jury Wednesday. Van Tassel said he knew nothing of the murder of Mrs. Hinshaw. Baney told the story of his confession. He said it was a lie, but justified it on the ground that he was in bad health and believed it would help him to get out of prison. The testimony of Baney is regarded as having ended the investigation, and with it the hope of Hinshaw's friends of securing any tangible benefit from it.

To Protect Americans.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Upon advice from United States Consul Pringle, at Guatemala City, to the effect that revolutionists had captured the town of Ocas, on the west coast of Guatemala, the state department has called upon the navy department to send a warship there to watch over American interests, and the Alert, at Mare Island, has been ordered to the scene of trouble.

Immense Export Business.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Domestic exports for last month were the largest for August of which the bureau of statistics of the treasury department has a record. They were valued at $79,497,820, as against $66,689,981 in August, 1896, an increase of $12,807,839. For the eight months ended Aug. 31, 1897, they amounted to $629,434,371, an increase of $62,217,387 over last year.

Favors Postal Savings Banks.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Postmaster-General Gary is devoting considerable attention to an investigation of the wisdom of establishing postal savings banks. He said that he has become convinced of both the wisdom and the utility of postal savings institutions and has decided to have a bill prepared providing for their establishment and to recommend its passage by congress. In all probability he will treat the subject in his annual report at some length.

PANIC SPREADING
THROUGH SOUTH

WILD ALARM OVER SPREAD OF YELLOW FEVER.

Exodus From Jackson, Miss.—All the Business Houses Closed—Shotgun Quarantine Established—A Serious Charge Made Against the City of Mobile.

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 16.—The state capital depopulated; its business houses closed; its newspapers suspended; seven cases of yellow fever officially announced at its very doors, with many suspected cases at various points; an embargo on the railroads of the state and grave apprehensions that the dread disease has obtained a foothold in numerous parts of the state; wild alarm everywhere—such are the conditions existing in the middle, western and northern portions of the state.

The worst fears of the medical fraternity and the public have been realized, and the prevailing disease at Edwards has been pronounced yellow fever. The state board of health has laid a general embargo on travel, except out of the state, by means of an order addressed to all lines of transportation. Travel from infected places is absolutely barred. The bright side of the situation is that the disease is of a very mild type.

The exodus from this city, which began in a small way several days ago, has attained unprecedented proportions. While the state board advises all who can to leave, the railroads say they can handle the largest crowds. The most rigid local quarantine prevails here.

The state board has instructed Dr. Purnell to place a cordon of guards around Edwards. Reports say that the disease has also appeared at Clinton and Smithtown, near Edwards.

Yazoo City, Miss., has issued orders for a shotgun quarantine to be enforced. No trains are allowed to stop except to exchange mails at the quarantine stations. No passengers are allowed to leave the train at all and all mail and express must be fumigated. Guards armed to the teeth are placed along the country boundaries, but in spite of these rigid rules several have managed to get in, some even coming from infected districts.

A decided and complete panic prevails in Jackson. Everybody has left town that could do so. Jackson has a population of 10,000 people and two-thirds of these have deserted the city.

SPREAD OF THE FEVER.

Much Alarm in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 16.—People prone to sensationalism are confidently announcing that the southern sections of the states of Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana will shortly be in the grasp of the yellow fever scourge. Even the most conservative admit the situation to be grave. That the disease is slowly but surely spreading is beyond question. The fever-infested points are New Orleans, La.; Mobile, Ala., and the following points in Mississippi: Ocean Springs, Biloxi, Barkley, Scranton, Perkinson, Clinton, Smith and Edwards—in all, eight communities.

New Orleans has at present eighteen cases out of twenty contracted. One death has occurred here and two other cases are suspected of being yellow fever.

It has been unquestionably established, though to the statement the people of Mobile may take exception, that the yellow fever was introduced into this section through Mobile. The Mobile health authorities are being charged with having concealed the facts that yellow fever existed in their town for fear that such an announcement would injure the business interests of the town.

Dead lines have been established along the state lines of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, and he who assumes to enter either the state of Texas or the sanitary districts of the other states assumes a risk which promises a certain death.

Five hundred armed men guard the town of Natchez, the only town in Mississippi which in 1878 was not afflicted with yellow fever out of all the cities in the southwest.

The United States soldiers who have been stationed here at the Jackson barracks were ordered out of the city Wednesday, and left for Fort McPherson, Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., is the only prominent southern city which is open to refugees, and hundreds of families are there now and others will go there. So decided has been the travel in that direction that the infected states have decided to quarantine against Atlanta for fear that among the refugees the fever may break out and possibly be reintroduced here.

AUSTRIA WILL ASK
$50,000 FOR A LIFE

GOVERNMENT DEMANDS HAZ-
ELTON INDEMNITY.

Result of Lattimer Affair—Legal Proceedings Will at Once Be Instituted Against the United States—All Quiet at Hazelton—Strike Is Declared Off.

Hazelton, Pa., Sept. 16.—The opinion of the Austrian consul regarding the Lattimer shooting affray is best illustrated in a letter sent by the consul to his secretary, who is now in this city. It is shown that the foreign government is now preparing to institute legal proceedings against the United States, and that the value of a human life by it is $50,000.

Everything is quiet in the neighborhood of the big coal mines and the indications are that the stay of the soldiers here will be of short duration. The developments Wednesday were of a character which impresses the belief that the operators and employees will get together this week, arrange a wage scale that will be uniform and settle the strike. The disposition among the miners is for work, which is a complete change from the feeling that prevailed a few days ago. The demand for a meeting of the operators has not met with the unanimous response hoped for by the original promoters, but the indications are that the meeting will be held soon and that an adjustment will be reached.

Miners Refuse a Proposition.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 16.—Miners of this city held a meeting Wednesday and peremptorily refused to accept a proposition made them by General Manager Dalzell. They voted unanimously not to allow the men to return, and furthermore ordered the few men who have been working to quit. The Marquette Coal company has agreed to grant the miners the new scale and the miners have accepted. At Ladd the new scale was also offered, but the men rejected it.

Pittsburg Miners at Work.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 16.—The coal miners' strike, so far as the Pittsburg district is concerned, is off and the 22,000 diggers have resumed work at the 65-cent rate. The decision to ignore the ten-day clause, which was a condition of the Columbus settlement, was arrived at Wednesday afternoon by a delegate convention of miners representing the entire district.

Strike Is Declared Off.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 16.—President Hatchford has prepared a circular address to the miners declaring the strike off. It takes effect next Saturday, but the circulars will be sent out at once. The ten-day limit expires next Monday, but the miners are generally resuming work regardless of this.

ANNOUNCE THE PLATFORM.

Federation of Labor.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 16.—The Illinois Federation of Labor was in session all day Wednesday and transacted a large amount of business. The proceedings were principally confined to the reading of reports from committees, the presentation of numerous resolutions and the adopting of the platform. A resolution favoring the free coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 was passed after lively discussion. The silver clause was presented in the minority report of the platform committee.

Besides the free silver clause the new features of the platform are: Government ownership of all railroads, telegraph and telephones. Municipal ownership and control of those public conveniences which become a necessity by reason of the centralization of population—namely, street railroads, waterworks, gas and electric light plants. Abolition of "government by injunction." Restriction of all immigration. Establishment of the initiative and referendum. Enactment of an employer's liability act that will protect the unfortunate toilers employed in dangerous occupations.

The resolution introduced Tuesday by T. J. O'Brien, of Chicago, referring to the killing of miners at Hazelton, Pa., created general discussion. The following substitute was finally carried: "Resolved, That the Illinois Federation of Labor, in convention assembled, declare its unreserved and unqualified fealty with the trades union form of organization and the trades union movement; that we hold the trades union movement as paramount to any other struggle for labor's amelioration and emancipation."

Free text-books in the public schools were indorsed and recommendation was made that the legislature submit the question to a vote of the people. Postal savings banks were also indorsed. A protest against the Case garnishment bill was referred.

Few Attend Silver Meeting.

Springfield, Ohio, Sept. 16.—The national silver camp meeting opened here Wednesday, but under discouraging circumstances. The number of strangers who came in today was not over 500. A. W. Thurman of Columbus is chairman. The son of "The Old Roman" took up the currency question and advocated fiat money.

The first speaker introduced was Dr. C. G. Spahr of New York. He said if silver were kept as a money the law of supply and demand would keep it at a standard price, but if kept as a commodity it would have to be judged on a basis of supply and demand for commodities. At night Gen. A. J. Warner of Ohio and H. C. Bell of Indianapolis made addresses.

No Charter to Junior Lodges.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 17.—At Wednesday's session of the grand lodge, Independent Order of Good Templars, the question of granting a charter to the junior grand lodge, for the benefit of Scandinavians, was again defeated. Uriah Copp of Loda was elected grand chief templar. Mr. Copp defeated George F. Sears of Chicago by a vote of 76 to 67.

CONFESSED MURDER

KINNAR NOW SAYS HE DIDN'T KILL KELSEO.

Told His Attorneys He Cut the Old Man's Throat, But Now Says That He Was Merely Giving Them Something To Think About.

Waupun, Sept. 16.—[Special]—William Kinner, who is serving a sentence of fifteen months in the state prison for an assault and robbery committed at Camp Douglas last December, and who is accused of having been an accomplice of Archibald Kelseo in the murder of the latter's father at Pittsburg in 1896, regards the whole thing as a joke and says there is not the least bit of truth to the story of his connection with the murder. The story that he confessed to an attorney at Elroy to having been an accessory to the murder of old man Kelseo he does not deny, but states that he made the confession in order to give the attorneys something to think about and also to get even with them for the way in which they conducted his case.

Starved Beside $2,900 in Gold

Fort Atkinson, Sept. 16.—[Special]—On examining the house where Mrs. Armitage starved to death a few days ago over $2,900 in gold was found in an old peach basket on a table covered with papers. Mrs. Armitage was the widow of William Armitage, Jr., of England, eldest son of an English squire.

LAYMEN MAKE PROTEST.

Indiana Methodists Object to Rule of Ministerial Minority.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 16.—The convention of Methodist laymen, called to meet and protest against the rules of the general conference which give the majority of ministers a majority voice in that body, was called to order at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday in Roberts Park Church. Over 200 delegates are in attendance.

Will Cumbuck, of Greensburg, was selected to preside. He said the laymen had asked for an increase in representation and it was a discredit to the church that it had been denied.

The committee on resolutions submitted a series of pronouncements in regard to the demands of the laymen, reciting the devotion of the laity to the principles of the church, their belief that they have contributed to its prosperity and growth, and closing as follows: "That we respectfully urge upon the next general conference, in the exercise of the existing plenary power it possesses, that there be granted without limitation or restriction equal representation of lay members in that body."

"That we recommend that a national convention of the members of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States be held at Indianapolis in October, 1898, the date and details to be fixed by the several executive committees of the states."

Alarm by Garcia's Success.

Havana (via Key West), Sept. 16.—The villages of Los Melones, Mejia, and San Pedro, west of Las Tunas, have been taken, with little resistance from their small forts, by the insurgent vanguard of Gen. Calixto Garcia, who is reported as moving rapidly toward the trocha. Intense alarm is felt in official and military circles in Havana about the success of Garcia's artillery and the effective use of dynamite guns.

Special Session Not Likely.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Gov. Tanner disapproves of the plan of calling a special session of the legislature to consider the question of revised revenue laws for Cook county. ## COUNCIL IS UNITED ON WALL STREET PLAN

ORDER TO VACATE ADOPTED WITHOUT DISSENT.

Suit For Injunction Will Be the Outcome—Arguments For and Against the Closing of the Street, Made by Attorneys—Macloon's Coal Bid Accepted.

The common council heard the Wall street question argued by three attorneys last evening. Then, without a dissenting voice, an order closing the street was adopted.

The next step in the case will be an application on behalf of F. S. Baines, the Wisconsin Carriage Top company and others for an injunction. Papers in this case may not be ready for a week, attorneys said today. They will be served on the city clerk and the representatives of the railroad company.

All the aldermen were present at last evening's meeting except Aldermen Gilkey and Rice.

Ald. Milmore presented the order for vacation to the council and it was read by the city clerk. The order has been published before and provided for the closing of a portion of Wall and Marion streets.

Before a vote was taken B. F. Dunwiddie was heard in behalf of the Wisconsin Carriage Top Co., T. S. Nolan in behalf of F. S. Baines and others, and William Ruger in behalf of the C. & N. W. road.

Could Build Over Wall Street

Mr. Dunwiddie pointed out that there would be plenty of room for a depot with an opening at Wall street. The Wall street crossing was absolutely necessary. The Pleasant street crossing had been turned into a switch yard, and farmers coming in on Pleasant street had worked their way around the Macloon sheds to the very crossing which the city proposed to close.

Many farmers use Wall street; many people living west of the railroad believe that the closing of Wall street will damage the property; one of our most valued enterprises is in danger of having its business taken away by the closing," declared Mr. Dunwiddie. "The Wisconsin Carriage Top Company believe that the closing of the street will take away a great deal of the trade which they have built up, and I believe they are right."

C. M. & St. Paul Opinion Cited.

Mr. Nolan spoke briefly sketching the growth of F. S. Baines' business and said that he had located and developed his plant with reference to Wall street remaining open. He then turned to the legal aspect of the case and said that the Janesville legal representative of the Milwaukee & St. Paul road had declared not long ago that the city could not close the street under existing circumstances. This was his opinion until the C. M. & St. P. saw that it could gain by having the street closed.

"I honestly and candidly do not believe that the city can close the street. Mr. Jackson does not believe it. I doubt very much whether my learned friend Mr. Ruger is fully satisfied of it," declared Mr. Nolan.

Mr. Nolan asked for delay and for a full investigation. Haste could only result in at least two law suits, a development that he should much regret.

Mr. Ruger declared very flatly that under the Wisconsin statutes no action whatever could lie against the city for damages on account of the vacation of a street. As to the council's rights in the matter Mr. Ruger said:

"If you cannot vacate a street, you do not do it, whatever your formal action may be, and consequently no harm results. The rights of property owners remain the same as if your action had not been taken. What you do can make no difference whatever. If you do have the power then the statutes hold the city harmless and no suit would stand for a moment."

Vacation of the Street is Essential.

Mr. Ruger said that the C. & N. W. had recognized for ten years that the vacation of Wall street would be necessary before an adequate depot could be built. The road secured signatures ten years ago under the old law to attempt to close the street and put in a new depot. He pointed out what benefits the new depot would confer and how little the closing of Wall street would hurt.

Mr. Nolan arose to explain that the suit he referred to were injunction suits and not damage suits. He suggested that a C. & N. W. official had discussed the feasibility of running a train shed over Wall street without vacating the street.

"I can state on the authority of officers who are empowered to decide that the depot will not be built if the street is not vacated," said Mr. Ruger. "They do not consider it practicable."

"Not a Dissenting Voice."

The question was then put to the council and the order as read was unanimously adopted by a full vote of the council.

The notice of the appointments of inspectors and clerks for the special license election was read by the clerk, and on motion of Alderman Burnham was adopted.

Alderman McKey stated that the bids to furnish coal for the engine houses and the city hall had been received, and the lowest bid was made by W. H. H. Macloon. The bid was accepted.

ELECTION OFFICERS NAMED

Next Tuesday Janesville will vote on the question of license. Those interested in reducing the license have filed the petition and it is understood that a quiet but vigorous campaign is being made in their behalf.

HE MISSES THE COUNTY FAIR

John Moon Came Up From Chicago to Enjoy the Show

John Moon of Chicago, who has been coming to Janesville regularly for years, to attend the county fair, is a much disappointed man this year. He was one of the founders of the Agricultural society and has taken deep interest in each annual fair. This year he knew nothing of the abandoning of the project until he arrived in town.

CITY COAL WILLECOST $6.15

W. H. H. Macloon's Bid on Fire Department Fuel Accepted by the Council.

Bids for furnishing coal to the fire department were opened last evening and W. H. H. Macloon's figures were accepted. The three bids submitted covered 23 tons of large egg and six tons of range delivered at engine houses. They were as follows:

	Large Egg	Range
W. H. H. Macloon	$6.15	$6.74
J. W. Carpenter	6.30	6.55
Janesville Coal Co.	6.75	7.00

SHE LOST $35 ON THE OPERA.

Miss Lillian Brought Says Her Monday Night Venture Didn't Pay.

Miss Lillian Brought says the opera "Pocahontas" Monday night cost her $35 in cold cash, to say nothing of much hard work and time. Miss Brought says she is not in the least discouraged and that she will try it again in the near future.

Mr. James E. Ferrell of Burnt House, W. Va., has discarded all other diarrhoea medicines and now handles only Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy. He has used it in his family and sold it to his customers for years, and has no hesitation in saying that it is the best remedy for colic and diarrhoea he has ever known. It not only gives relief, but effects a permanent cure. It is also pleasant and safe to take, making it an ideal remedy for bowel complaints. For sale by C. D. Stevens' Pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

LUMBER IS GOING HIGHER.

Local Dealers Have Been Notified of An Advance on Several Lines.

Local lumber dealers report a revival in business. A slight advance on cash and No. 1 doors has been made during the past week, showing that the trade is in a healthy condition. Cedar shingles are still on the rise; last week they took a jump of about 10 cents a thousand, and are now selling for about 20 to 25 cents more than they did four or five weeks ago.

To Whom it May Concern.

I have been in the drug business for twelve years and during that time, have sold nearly all thorough medicines manufactured; and from my personal knowledge of such remedies, I say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other on the market. W. M. Terry, Elkton, Ky. Sold by C. D. Stevens, Pharmacist, Corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

MARKET DAY TALK AT A MASS MEETING

MAYOR CALLS BUSINESS MEN TOGETHER FRIDAY.

Subscriptions Are Numerous and a Program of Games Has Been Arranged—Promoters Believe There Is a Chance To Make the Day a Memorable One.

The Market Day movement is gaining strength.

A citizens' meeting will be held in the council chamber Friday evening and the securing of prizes and laying out of a programme of games will be decided.

Messrs. Dooley and Burns have interviewed many business men and find them all favorable to the plan.

Mayor Thoroughgood issued the following announcement today:

To Business Men and Others Taking An Interest in Market Day: A business meeting will be held in the council chamber Friday night, September 17, for the purpose of arranging a Market Day in this city. From what I can learn Market Day in Janesville can be made a prominent feature, and to learn the manner of its working, consisting of games, prizes, etc., I hereby request our business men and everyone feeling themselves interested attend the meeting at 8 p. m. Friday, September 17th.

JOHN THOROUGHGOOD, mayor.

Merchants have given 125 prizes for the Market day games. These prizes range in value from one to five dollars.

Market day promises now to be a success beyond expectations.

WHAT STATE FOLKS ARE DOING

A SCUFFLE which began in fun ended in the fatal stabbing of James Taylor of Bessmer.

TYPHOID fever prevails in Spencer. It was brought from Dakota and threatens to become epidemic.

MRS. HENRY DUPHAN, of Kenosha, tried to commit suicide twice by jumping into the lake. She was rescued each time.

MRS. WILLIAM MANNEY jumped into the river from a Chippewa Falls bridge to avoid a team. Her husband plunged in to save her but she was drowned.

In the circuit court of La Crosse A. E. Bleckman has raised a question as to the constitutionality of the new jury law, refusing to try a case before the jury drawn.

In the name of the state Governor Scofield has taken out an insurance policy for $500 on the capital building. This is the first time that the building has carried any insurance.

Fox river paper makers find indications for the first time in four years that prices are to cease falling. Mills have all they can do and a general advance in price is expected.

A WHOLESALE jail delivery was attempted at the Milwaukee county jail at 3 o'clock this morning. Five prisoners sawed their way out of their cells, but were recaptured before they could get out of jail.

THE Chicago & Northwestern road has put in the block system south of Elroy. Telegraph offices and night and day operators have been stationed at Olinex and Gordon, two sidetracks between Elroy and Reedsburg. An office will be put in at Glendale again.

WITHIN two weeks orders have been placed in the Fox river valley for 3000 tons of print paper for Japan. The manufacturers have secured a freight rate of $10 a ton to Yokokama, and they say that the business is of a very desirable character, and there seems to be a lot of it.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE has captured Ashkosh and the inroads it is making in the various churches have attracted the serious attention of the ministers. The First Methodist church has suffered the most although it is not alone, for the leading women of the city, including the wife of an ex-mayor. The movement is only six months old.

J. W. Baggett, of Oak Grove, Fla., had an attack of the measles, nearly three years ago, and the disease left him with very severe pains in the chest. "I thought I would die," he writes; "but to my great joy, I was saved by Chamberlain's Pain Balm." Pains in the chest nearly always indicate the approach of pneumonia, and by promptly applying this liniment on a flannel cloth, which should be bound on the chest, an attack of pneumonia may be prevented. It is always prompt and effectual. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by C. D. Stevens, Pharmacy corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

PLAY FOR STATE Y. M. C. A.

Janesville Men Will Furnish Music in Baraboo October 14-17.

Twenty-three members of the local Y. M. C. A. band have been engaged to play at the state Y. M. C. A. convention to be held in Baraboo, October 14 to 17. The indications are that an unusually large representation of christian young men all over the state will attend the convention, as a number of strong attractions have been secured for the event. Among the prominent men who will address the meetings is Rev. C. I. Scofield of Northfield, Mass., a bible scholar of national repute. Two representatives of the international committee from New York, will also be present. A strong delegation from the local association here is expected to attend.

G. R. PECK MAY BE PRESIDENT

Former Janesville Lawyer May Boss St. Paul System Next Year

There are rumors that Roswell Miller, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Paul railroad company, will resign, if not this year, some time in 1898. These reports are always current about the date of the annual meeting of the company, and are founded upon President Miller's desire for a more quiet business career.

There is naturally much speculation as to a successor. Among the names mentioned is that of George R. Peck, a graduate of Milton college, an old Janesville attorney, and at present the chief counsel of the St. Paul company.

$25 PROFIT ON A HOT DAY

Buffalo Bill's Caterer Says the Thermometer Never Gets Too High.

The hot weather Tuesday saved Landford Robbins of the cook tent about $25. Mr. Robbins admitted to a Gazette man that the hotter it was the better he liked it. "It's like this," he said with a smile. "The 300 men who eat here three times a day, come in on a hot day, call for a glass of iced tea, eat a piece of watermelon and then walk out. Meat, which is the one expensive article, they refuse to touch excepting on cold days. The show pays us so much a meal and you can readily see where the profits come in on hot days."

HOT TIMES IN EVANSVILLE

Beer Kegs Lead Editor Libbey to Use Scathing Language.

Water is not the only liquid to be found in Evansville these days. The Evansville Tribune says: "Saturday evening was made hideous by the howls of a drunken mob in the vicinity of the depot and beer kegs were plainly visible at several places along Main street Sunday morning, to which no attention was given. If we have no authorized officers here for the punishment of such, there are at Janesville where they should be taken if need be."

HORSE NOTES OF LOCAL SORT.

"REDDY" Gerrety is at Portland, Me. this week. He will stay in New England until October.

CHRYSENE, 2:14, the blind stallion, tried to lower his mark at Kite park, Fond du Lac, Tuesday, but the best he could do was 2:19.

MRS. FINLEY, the Milwaukee mare owned by C. Jenson, won first money at Mystic park, Boston, last Saturday. She also got second money at Portland, Me., Tuesday. She won the first heat in 2:12. Annanias won the race.

A STARTING judge at one of the race meetings in this state in making an announcement the other day, explaining the heavy condition of the track said: "Owing to the 'heft' of the track the horse will only go a half mile instead of three quarters."

WALLY NYGREN, who broke his collar bone by being thrown out of a sulky while driving Ella R. in a race at Appleton Fourth of July, got up to drive at Fond du Lac Tuesday. After driving one heat he was compelled to quit, his shoulder bothering him so badly.

RINGLING BELLS 2:15, by Bow Bells, owned by Father Mueller of Waukesha, has been shipped home and he will not be raced any more this season. He went lame a couple of weeks ago at Appleton, and it was thought best to lay him up the balance of the season.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1736—Gabriel Daniel Fahrenheit, noted for thermometers, died in Amsterdam; born 1686.

1812—Moscow set on fire by the Russian government; over 30,000 buildings destroyed; loss, $150,000,000. The fire lasted many days. Napoleon's soldiers vainly attempted to suppress the flames. The French began to leave Oct. 19, on that march which destroyed them faster than great battles. This disaster is considered the beginning of the end for Napoleon. His army never recovered from it.

1894—Captain John Hanning Speke, the famous African explorer, accidentally killed by the discharge of his fowling piece while hunting at Neston park, England.

1892—Dr. Pusey, famous high church man, died; born 1800.

1800—The palace of the Alhambra, in Granada, damaged by fire to the extent of $250,000.

1800—6,000,000 acres opened to settlers in the Cherokee strip.

HE STRENGTHENS CUBA

As far as the news from Cuba can be sifted the tide has turned against the latest and worst of Gen. Weyler's plans of campaign. His concentration camps, where the rural population, men, women and children, are huddled in order to be under military observation, have served to strengthen the insurgent armies in numbers as well as purpose. In those camps of famine and pestilence men who have been non-combatants see their families perishing day by day and take the first chance to join the Cuban forces.

If Spain would listen to the dictates of statesmanship it would abandon the effort to crush its colonies. It has failed and no possible reinforcement of its armies in Cuba can reverse the result. Weyler has opened wide his Pandora's box and is himself a sufferer from the horrors unloosed. It is said that there are five parties in Spain who agree on nothing except that Cuba must be retained. The liberal party support Sagasta, now a man of seventy, for premier, and Campos for captain general of Cuba. This would mean concessions, but not necessarily their acceptance by the insurgents. In the meantime, Weyler and his cruelties merely aggravate the situation and make any settlement except the independence of the island more difficult. Spain has no time to lose in adopting a liberal programme. Perhaps it is too late, but it is certain that Cuba cannot be conquered on the Weyler plan.

BID FOR RAILROADS AND LANDS

Ex-Commissioner Lamoreaux gets another rebuke from the general land office. Yesterday Secretary Bliss rendered a decision which jeopardizes the right of the Northern Pacific railroad company to hold certain lands in the west, valued at several millions of dollars.

The case in dispute is that of the Pacific Coast Marble company against the Northern Pacific disputing the right of the company to certain lands containing mineral deposits. It has made a test to establish a ruling by the department and is considered by the interior department to be one of the most important cases heard for some time.

Under the ruling of Secretary Bliss the Northern Pacific has no claim to the property in this particular case nor in any other case where it seeks to patent land containing minerals other than coal and iron.

The decision reverses that of Commissioner Lamoreaux, under which the Northern Pacific was declared entitled to mineral lands falling within the limit of its grant, and makes it harder for railroads to get everything in the northwest that is worth taking.

SOLID IN OHIO.

The activity of Foraker, Foster and Hanna in the meetings that opened the Ohio campaign showed how baseless were the reports of dissension in republican ranks. No campaign in the recent history of Ohio, indeed, opened more auspiciously for the republicans. The general conditions throughout the country are favorable to the party, and these are reinforced by certain favorable local circumstances, among which were the split in the popocratic forces in Ohio through the nomination of a populist state ticket, the weakness of Chapman, the democratic candidate for governor, and the distrust which is felt on all sides for McLean, the democratic aspirant for senator. Nobody need be surprised if the republican lead in Ohio on both the state and legislative tickets reaches memorably high figure.

Railway Bridges for Japan.
Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 16.—Plans for eight big railroad bridges to be built on the line of the Nippon railway of Japan have been completed and are now in the office of K. A. L. Waddell of this city, under whose direction the structures are to be built. The bridges are to be of the cantilever style and six of them will be built without the aid of false work. They will be built of American material entirely and American workmen will do the work in the mills and shops of Pennsylvania.

More Troops for Cuba.
Madrid, Sept. 16.—The war department is concentrating 6,000 troops with the intention of immediately dispatching them as reinforcements to the Spanish army in Cuba.

This sudden activity indicates that the government means to have men enough on the island to repel an American invasion if war between Spain and the United States grows out of President McKinley's negotiations for peace in Cuba, as now seems quite possible.

Train Robbers Are Caught.
Stockton, Cal., Sept. 16.—George Williams and George Slagle, who attempted to rob a Southern Pacific train near Ripon, Cal., last week, were captured near Newman Wednesday. The officers saw them as they were leaving a strawstack where they had slept. After a three-mile chase the robbers surrendered without resistance.

William Would Visit England.
London, Sept. 16.—Truth says that since the return of Emperor William of Germany from Russia he has expressed a wish to visit Queen Victoria in the autumn, and will probably cross from Kiel to Aberdeen in the imperial yacht Hohenzollern for the purpose of making a strictly private visit to her majesty at Marlborough castle.

Great Dock Strike Imminent.

YOU CANNOT CURE PILES

By Internal Remedies.

The only sure way to cure every form of piles is to use a remedy like the Pyramid Pile Cure which is applied directly to the parts affected and its wonderful healing effects are apparent from the first application because the medicinal properties are rapidly absorbed by tissues and sensitive membranes of the rectum, and the cure is made speedily and almost before the patient is aware of it, every trace of piles has left him.

This is one of the reasons why the Pyramid Pile Cure has been so uniformly successful. It is applied directly just where it is needed and where it will do the most good. Not by the roundabout way of the stomach nor by the harsh, barbarous methods of various surgical operations and so called systems.

Direct application to the seat of disease is the only rational way, and this is fully accomplished by the Pyramid Pile Cure.

If the voluntary testimony of thousands who have tried this remedy is worth anything then no sufferer has any excuse for longer delaying in giving it a fair trial, knowing that when you do so the Pyramid Pile Cure will have made one more friend, the best possible advertisement we can have. The chief advantages of the remedy are: It cures without pain, the cure is lasting, it contains no poison, and lastly, it is the cheapest and quickest cure yet found. Your druggist can tell you what it has done for others. Sold by druggists at 50c and $1 per package.

FIGURES TURNED IN ON COUNTY WEALTH

ASSESSORS FIND $4,135,632 OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

Only 71 Bicycles in the County and Those in Evansville—Lists Show 15,491 Horses and 28,000 Pigs—The Mercantile Stock Amounts to $867,740

County Clerk McIntyre is tabulating the assessment figures from the various cities and towns of the county. Personal property aggregates $4,135,632. The county has 15,491 horses, 35,445 neat cattle, 17,938 sheep and 28,000 swine.

For all the live stock figures there is doubtless a fair foundation but when it gets to other items of personal property the assessors are sometime grievously hoodwinked. For instance they found but two watches in the town of Magnolia, and as both the nabobs who own these time pieces came to town to see Buffalo Bill Tuesday, the hired men hardly knew when it was dinner time. Avon has not a watch of any kind, to judge from the assessors' figures and Janesville has but 325 compared to Beloit's 510.

Magnolia people must have kept their musical instruments down cellar while the assessor was going around for only three pianos, organs or melodions were found.

ARQUETTE IN A CELL

ACTS AS DETECTIVE

THE SNIPE HILL MAN APPEARS AGAINST CAR THIEVES.

He Points Out the Two Who Sold Him Clothing Stolen at Milton, and Says He Has Heard Some Things About the Past Lives of the Men

With trembling fingers John Arquette pointed out Frank Hunt and Edward King in the municipal court, this afternoon, as the two men who bargained with him for the sale of the clothing stolen from the cars at Milton.

The stolen clothing was also produced and identified by Arquette as that bought of the prisoners.

The hearing of Hunt and King was commenced today, and damaging evidence was introduced. George A. McNair, Emil Freeste, John O'Connor, Thos. E. Gregory and John Rockford, of Milwaukee and Thomas Boland, of Milton, were among the witnesses called and their testimony which was substantially the same was damaging to the defendants who each listened attentively to all that was said and done.

John Arquette of Snipe Hill, who is under arrest charged with receiving the stolen clothing, was the seventh witness called. Arquette stated that while confined in jail he played the part of detective and became possessed of enough evidence to convince him that Hunt and King were old timers at the business.

Officer W. H. Appleby stated that both men were old time crooks and that he had known one of them for ten years.

Detective Casey of the St. Paul road, who was active in causing the arrest of the defendants was present at today's hearing. District Attorney W. A. Jackson prosecuted and Attorney John Groesbeck appeared for the defense.

Both men are held for trial Sept. 24 at 10 a. m. In default of bail they were remanded to jail.

A NOBLE FOLLOWER.

up again. I began to see differently. Mr. Valois treated Mrs. Wallis as he would have treated my mother, and he seemed perfectly unconscious of her infatuation for him.

But for the first time since we had known each other there was a little coolness between Mrs. Wallis and myself. It was nothing defined, just one of those uncomfortable, constrained states that seem to come sometimes between friends like the breath of a north wind.

One day we had been drinking tea and were standing about with the cups in our hands when there was a commotion in the street. There had been a collision between a carriage and a cart. The occupant of the carriage was just alighting as we looked out. He was a small, wizened creature in the most correct afternoon costume, and he seemed to be in a terrible rage.

Mr. Valois looked and then started. "What!" he cried excitedly. "That is the Prince Gortchoff. I will go to him."

But just then the old man stepped into the carriage again and was driven off. A maid had just come in after the tea things.

Mr. Valois took a card from his pocket, wrote something on it and, putting it into an envelope, bade the maid run down and send the missive after the old gentleman's carriage. It was all done in a second, but Mrs. Wallis and I looked at each other. We had seen that the card was not like the one Mr. Valois had sent us. There was a title after the name.

The next day Mr. Valois didn't come until evening. Mrs. Wallis was out first, evidently waiting for him. As I opened my room door to go into the parlor I saw that they were in earnest conversation, and I could hardly help overhearing a little of it, and I did want to know if he made love to her. He didn't.

"And did you go to see the prince—I cannot remember his name?" she asked sweetly.

"Prince Gortchoff? Yes, madame; I was with him today. He is a Russian, one of the great nobles of that empire. I last saw him in Vienna, to which city I had traveled with him from St. Petersburg."

I could see Mrs. Wallis fairly pluming herself at knowing so great a personage even at secondhand.

"And when," she said softly, "are we to see the cards you send to the prince?"

Mr. Valois gave a little laugh and walked away. "Oh, I am of service to you here as I am, madame. I promise—when you reach France."

Then I opened the door and walked in.

Two days after we left England and crossed the channel to France. At the last minute Mr. Valois found that he could not accompany us, but promised to meet us in Paris within a few days. I don't know why, but I didn't believe he would come. I felt that I was saying "goodby" to one of the pleasantest acquaintances I had ever made. And, as sometimes happens, my presentiment was not far from wrong.

"It is not 'goodby,'" he said. "It is only an revoir. We shall travel long roads together over there." And he looked at me.

After we had embarked upon the chopping channel we were glad that Mr. Valois was not with us, unless his seasickness remedy was also on hand. We were frightfully ill, as were all the rest of the passengers, and the piles of washbowls were in constant use. We only stopped in Calais for one day. Our rooms were already engaged in Paris. Mr. Valois had attended to that for us. Mrs. Wallis and I were anxious to get into the whirl of life. We were no longer good comrades for each other, and we both moped in the absence of a companion who had done so much to enliven us of late. It seemed absurd when we realized that we had only known him a fortnight.

We had been in Paris a week, had shopped at the Bon Marche, bought a dress or two of the immortal Worth, and had found some American friends who had rapidly seen the sights of the French capital and wanted us to push on into Switzerland and north Germany with them. "Winter was the time for Paris." But we were awaiting some one whose judgment was infallible. We were to go the next day to say goodby to them and were sitting in our parlor talking in a desultory way of their plans, carefully leaving out Mr. Valois' name when we spoke of our own, when there was a knock at the door, and a servant came in with a large silver—a brass sea, islanded by a tiny white note. It was addressed to Mrs. Wallis, and we both recognized the writing as that of Mr. Valois. She broke the seal with almost trembling hands, and after she had read it handed it over to me:

MADAME:—You are now in Paris, where I can refer you to almost any gentleman in the city for information as to my standing. I have refrained from calling myself up to this time because I wished you to know me well before I made any pretensions. May I call at your rooms in one hour from this? Your devoted servant, HENRI VALOIS.

Mrs. Wallis went over to the table and wrote a hasty note, which she dispatched. Again was her face that burning red.

"I will order the carriage and go around to see the Prices," I said, and she did not object. I went into my own room and "nearly died of laughter," as schoolgirls say, while I was putting on my jacket and hat. I felt as sure as I ever felt of anything that Henri Valois, or the Marquis de Saint Lippe, or whoever he might be—and we should soon know—was going to propose to Mrs. Wallis for my hand. To him she stood in the place of my mother. A man never would write such a businesslike epistle as that to the woman he was going to ask to marry him. I felt a little sorry for her and then I felt exultant. It was good enough for her. A woman of that age has no business falling in love with young men.

And then I laughed again and imagined her sensations when she went into that room, expecting the embraces of a lover, to be asked to play the part of mother to me. Oh, it was too good almost to keep to myself! If Mr. Valois had ever made downright love to me, as an Englishman or an American would certainly have done under the circumstances, I would have told Delia Price all about it and let her laugh with me, but it would have been a tame love story whose only incident was the joke with which it reached its climax. But I was merciful in one respect—I timed my return so that the embarrassment should be as short as possible for Mrs. Wallis.

After Mr. Valois (he was something more than that now) had explained himself I would come in. I looked at my watch as I went up in the elevator (they call them lifts and ascenseurs over here) and calculated that Henri had been with Mrs. Wallis about three-quarters of an hour. I went through my own room, took off my hat, fluffed up my bangs and softly opened the parlor door.

It was empty. As I stepped in, a little bewildered, Mrs. Wallis' door opened on the other side, and she rushed across the room, and throwing herself into my arms broke into the wildest peals of laughter. I was frightened to death. Had the woman gone stark mad over her disappointment? She left me as suddenly as she had clutched my neck, and picking up an engraved card from the table held it before my eyes.

"Oh, Jean, Jean!" she fairly screamed between her ha-ha's.

"If we aren't green! That man is a courier. He wanted me to hire him to travel with us, and because I wouldn't he is furious. He made me pay for the theater tickets and carriages and everything we had in Liverpool and London. And, oh, yes—he said the telegram from Queenstown was 12 shillings, and he wanted £10 for the time he wasted taking us about after he found that I wouldn't have him travel with us over here."

There was the engraved card that he sent to the prince—"Henri Valois, courier, speaks French, Italian, German, Russian, Spanish, English."

We changed our minds and went to Switzerland with the Prices.

Last winter, down on the lake of Como, we were sitting with a group of tourists who were talking of the short-comings of couriers very much as American ladies talk of their servants.

"There is one man," Sir George Shelly said, "who has been simply ruined by being allowed to look and act like a gentleman. He was the best courier in Europe ten years ago, but there is no living with him now."

"Who is that?" Mr. Donaldson of New York asked. "Valois?"

"That's the fellow."

"Well," Mr. Donaldson said, "I regret to say that Americans are responsible for it. An American family of wealth and some position in one of our large western cities employed Valois here for a year, and then took him home with them for a visit, and actually introduced him to their friends as a desirable acquaintance."

There were various exclamations of wonder and disgust from all the Americans. The English were too polite to do more than smile at our national ways, but of all the group nobody expressed such wonder and almost incredulous astonishment at such ignorance as Mrs. Wallis and myself.

FISH MAKE BRAINS

So the scientist says. And Fish also make a good dinner. Nothing like a nice, fresh caught black bass or pickerel to take the place of the usual hum-drum every day meat supply. Fresh Fish are choice these days; good size and in fine condition, meat is as solid as can be. We receive fresh bass and pickerel almost daily. For a few days only we will sell fresh caught pickerel at 8c per pound; the cheapest meat you can buy, 8c per pound.

THURSDAY WE WILL HAVE A LARGE LINE OF PICKEREL, PIKE, BLACK BASS, TROUT AND WHITE FISH FOR FRIDAY'S USE.

No Guess Necessary....

THE LEADER doesn't need to be guessed about. THE LEADER is above reproach as a store for the people and of the people. It has not its equal. THE LEADER is not a concern to sell out every day and humbug the people with bankrupt stocks. It has come among you to be permanent. THE LEADER is not a concern to change the prices on goods every day. Rock bottom prices were made on all articles when the doors were first thrown open to public patronage and so they have remained. THE LEADER buys its goods and pays for them without the assistance of any one. THE LEADER has not come here to hoodwink people but rather to gain their confidence by honest methods. There is no purchasing place in Southern Wisconsin where business is done more honorably and whose business principles are better formed than THE LEADER'S. Every article in the stock is guaranteed in every manner, both price and quality. We buy direct from the best factories in existence and buy for cash. The middleman's profit is saved and the public derive the benefit.

THE LEADER CARRIES IN STOCK

Hardware, Tinware, Graniteware, Woodenware, Fiberware, Glassware, Crockery, Cutlery, Cooking Utensils, Paints, Brushes, Soaps, Sunshine Stoves and Ranges, Etc., Etc.,

And guarantees you lower prices than you can find elsewhere. We have a line of seventy-five different patterns of Stoves and Ranges; with everyone a written guarantee against fault of any kind. Take them home, set them up, try them thoroughly, and, if not exactly as represented bring them back, and you get your money back. THE LEADER has employed one of the best hardware and stove men in Southern Wisconsin--a lifetime experience in the business--Mr. Adam Sanner. He has entire charge of this department.

The Leader Towers above Competition

Like a steeple alongside of a small gable. It enjoys public confidence which is most necessary for the carrying on of a successful business. It is not afraid of being broken up at any time, and could, should necessity demand, produce $25,000.00 on the shortest notice. All THE LEADER asks of buyers is a comparison of goods and prices before making purchases. There will be no guess work as to where to buy goods. Perfect satisfaction is guaranteed in every way whether the purchase be 1c or $100.00. If at any time you have bought any article at THE LEADER and it has not met most heartily with your approval bring it back and get your money refunded. We depend upon the public for patronage, therefore the public will be well treated by us. You will find us in the future as in the past as anxious to do all in our power in the trade line to merit your good opinion. You will always find our prices 25% to 40% lower than the lowest on all commodities. You'll find us "new timber." "Dead lumber saws no wood." .. ..
